

THE RETROSPECTIVE PERSON.
He never thinks a man is truly great until he's dead.
And then he wipes away a tear and quotes what he has said.
He talks about the Nations that long since have passed away.
And mourns when he compares them with the Nations of today.
He talks about his boyhood and the fun that folks had then;
He talks about the actors that we never shall see again.
He vows that everything worth while long since has gone before.
And life to him is just one grand, sweet funeral—nothing more.

BASTARDY WARRANT
Issued Yesterday For a Prominent Young Man of Sardis

Miss Mary Gifford, a pretty and modest appearing young lady of eighteen summers, was a caller at the County Clerk's office yesterday.

She was accompanied by her brother and County Attorney O'Donnell.

Her mission was a sad one. She was there for the purpose of swearing to a bastardy warrant against John Bratton, who, under a promise of marriage, had taken advantage of her confiding nature and tender years.

Bratton instead of fulfilling his solemn vow and obligation deserted her in her trouble and went West.

Both are from the Sardis neighborhood, to which place he returned several days ago thinking perhaps nothing would be done in the matter.

When a woman's love turns to wrath, the tiger nature shows itself and the person on whom her hate is centered had better keep out of her reach.

A warrant for the young man's arrest was issued yesterday and it is to be hoped he will be made to right the wrong by honorable marriage.

MADE GOOD

Fly Young Man Repays Money Gotten From Mrs. Coulter.

About two weeks ago two young men were arrested and jailed for securing money under false pretense from Mr. M. W. Coulter of the St. Charles Hotel. Tuesday they were discharged from custody after having paid back the money illegally received, and all additional costs and expenses appertaining to their capture and keeping.

It was evidently the young man's first break, and under the circumstance the course pursued by the officials was right and proper. They have given him a chance to redeem himself.

The contrition of the man was a factor in his favor. When interviewed by a LEDGER representative on the night of his incarceration, he broke down and cried like a child. At first, when suggested that he communicate with his mother and inform her of his predicament, he was decidedly opposed to it. He did not want her to know of his disgrace.

It was the mother, however, who came to her son's rescue. She furnished the money necessary to pay the bills.

May it be a lasting warning and teach him that honesty is the best policy and pays a hundred cents on the dollar every time.

WHO'S WHO NOW?
Which Will It Be—Jim Kehoe or Judge Bennett?

JUDGE JOSEPH B. BENNETT.

From the latest and best information obtainable up to the hour of going to press yesterday, THE LEDGER's Congressional returns showed the re-election of Mr. Kehoe by a majority of 253.

The majorities in several counties were estimated; but later in the day telegrams came materially changing the complexion of affairs, and showing Bennett's election—providing these reported majorities are correct—

	Kehoe.	Bennett.

WE now know enough about the season's crops to make a guess at their value to the farmers, says The Wall Street Journal. It is probable that the harvest of 1904 is the most valuable ever gathered in this country. A rough estimate on the basis of the Government's last crop report shows an aggregate value of the six cereals, and cotton, hay and potatoes, of $3,200,000,000.

We compare the value of this year's crops with the Government reports of the value of the crops of the last two years—

	1902.	1903.	1904.
Corn.....	$1,017,000,000	$ 952,800,000	$ 985,000,000
Wheat.....	422,200,000	443,000,000	551,000,000
Oats.....	303,500,000	297,600,000	296,000,000
Rye.....	17,000,000	15,900,000	19,000,000
Barley.....	61,800,000	60,100,000	62,000,000
Buckwheat.....	8,000,000	8,600,000	9,000,000
Hay.....	542,000,000	556,300,000	550,000,000
Potatoes.....	134,100,000	151,600,000	158,000,000
Cotton.....	480,700,000	617,500,000	600,000,000
Totals.....	$2,987,000,000	$3,073,000,000	$3,300,000,000

In making this estimate of the farm value of this year's crops we have tried to make the best guess possible at this time of the year as to the prices which the farmers will receive. These estimated prices compare as follows with the Government's prices for the last two years:

	1902.	1903.	1904.
Corn, bushel.....	$.40.3	$.42.5	$.40
Wheat, bushel.....	.63	.69.5	1.00
Oats, bushel.....	.30.7	.34.1	.30
Rye, bushel.....	.50.8	.54.5	.70
Barley, bushel.....	.45.9	.45.6	.45
Buckwheat, bushel.....	.59.6	.60.7	.60
Hay, ton.....	9.06	9.08	8.50
Potatoes, bushel.....	.47.1	.61.4	.55

No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as newspapers well patronized, and this power should be appreciated."

The Robert P. Gilham, which left Cincinnati for the Kanawha river with empty barges, was forced to the bank at Catlettsburg on account of low water.

Captain W. A. Blackstock has returned to Pittsburgh from his low water trip to Pomeroy and Gallipolis. He made the trip in the Mermaid, taking a tow of ten empties and a loaded flat. His tow drew 26 inches of water going down and he was just able to get through. On the return trip he had but 2 feet, but got up without difficulty.

Captain Gordon Green and representatives of his company, Captains Rowe and Noll, have been in Cincinnati this week to further the plans of transferring the packets Courier, H. M. Stanley, Tacoma, M. P. Wells and the New South of the White Collar Line, to run in connection with the steamers Greenland and Greenwood, now in the up-river trade from Cincinnati. The plans are rapidly being consummated.

Superintendent J. F. Ellison of the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati Packet Line has succeeded Captain R. W. Wise as Superintendent and Agent of the Memphis Packet Company, also known as the Lee Line of boats, thereby coming in control, at Cincinnati, of both packet lines. The consolidation of the companies, which began last summer, will form a continuous line of packet boats, under one management, from Pittsburgh to Memphis and St. Louis.

OH, MY
When Will the Flood Subside?

The general result of the election, showing the overwhelming defeat of Parker, was in yesterday's LEDGER; but it is astonishing to note some of Roosevelt's unprecedented majorities. For instance—

California.....	75,000
Colorado.....	30,000
Connecticut.....	25,000
Delaware.....	5,000
Idaho.....	8,000
Illinois.....	240,000
Indiana.....	50,000
Iowa.....	135,000
Kansas.....	30,000
Massachusetts.....	87,000
Michigan.....	92,000
Minnesota.....	115,000
Montana.....	100,000
Nebraska.....	8,000
Nebraska.....	35,000
New Hampshire.....	20,000
Nevada.....	1,000
New Jersey.....	49,000
New York.....	167,000
North Dakota.....	208,000
Ohio.....	200,000
Oregon.....	40,000
Pennsylvania.....	400,000
Rhode Island.....	15,000
South Dakota.....	40,000
Utah.....	8,000
Vermont.....	31,000
Washington.....	30,000
West Virginia.....	20,000
Wisconsin.....	60,000
Wyoming.....	7,000

These will do for a sample; and it looks like Roosevelt will have 343 electoral votes to 133 for Parker.

In the Congressional elections, the Republicans have elected 233 and the Democrats only 141.

And it's still raining this morning.
